FR. HAMEL PLUGS GAP ORGANIZES COLLEGE BAND

A big deficiency in campus life seems well on its way to being filled. Under the direction of Father Hamel, the badly needed college band and orchestra are gradually being organized.

From the earliest days of the college, St. Michael's had always possessed an excellent college band and orchestra.

During the war these institutions were suspended because of lack of time and personnel.

Last month, however, Fr. Hamel called the musicians of the college together to make a recording of the St. Michael's fight song.

Once together it was decided to keep on with the band and if possible to start an orchestra.

Under the direction of Fr. Hamel the band has been practicing regularly and shows great promise.

There is an urgent need, however, for a bass player and two mellophone players. These men do not necessarily have to be performers on these particular instruments for Fr. Hamel will train anyone who is interested and has a fair knowledge of music.

The college orchestra has not fared quite so well. The newly formed " Arabian Knights" dance orchestra has taken the time and energy of most of its potential members.

While Fr. Hamel is not against the dance orchestra he feels that it should function as an offshoot of the school orchestra.

Fr. Hamel hopes that these organizations will receive the support of all those who have musical talent. A good band and orchestra are instrumental in developing a healthy school spirit.

Hail To the Queen NSA Picks Dottie

QUEEN DOTTIE

Dottie Pratley is Winter Queen of all the colleges of the United States.

Dottie who reigned at the Outing Club's Winter Carnival was chosen by the NSA 'News' as the loveliest of all intercollegiate winter carnival queens.

The 'News' is the official publication of the United States National Student Organization. It is published monthly in Madison, Wisconsin.

According to the 'News,' Miss Pratley was picked by an impartial editorial board on the basis of her picture which was carried in the MICHAELMAN.

Under a two column photo of Dottie the 'News' carried all the vital statistics. Her height, weight, likes and dislikes were all included. The 'News' used italics to report she had green eyes.

Dottie was escorted to the carnival by Barney Thompson, frosh, from her home town of Greenwich, Conn. The 'News' did not report whether this would make Barney Winter King.

SAC To Meet Clubs, OK's Change In Prom

At this week's meeting of S.A.C. George Rodden, chairman of the Junior Prom, proposed to the committee that the date of the Prom and the Senior week-end be changed from May 8 to May 13-14-15. He also asked permission to transfer the sight of the dance from Austin Hall to Memorial Auditorium in Burlington.

The reasons for these changes as Mr. Rodden stated were that the Junior class couldn't get the Auditorium for May 8 due to the annual Musical Festival. Also that it would be hard to get accommodations for the girls being brought up for the week-end due to the crowd at the Music Festival. The change in site was necessary because Austin Hall will not accommodate the crowd that will attend.

At the meeting it was also decided that a committee composed of Red Lynch and Mario Marini meet the presidents of the various school clubs. Reason for the meeting is to discuss the position of each club as it is affected by the SAC.

A tentative master activity plan is being formed by the SAC. Through the cooperation of the Council and the club presidents the plan can go into effect with greater speed and smoothness.

The meeting will take place Saturday, March 12, in Room 28 College Hall, at 1 p.m.

Kenny Baker will sing, Ted Fio Rito will make music for the folks and Frick and Frack will display their ice antics in Austin Hall this Sunday night at the Mission Crusade Movie.

Title of the picture is " Silver Skates." Show time is 7:45.

K&K HIT THE ROAD WITH 'THE KINGDOM'

The Knights and Knaves followed up their enjoyable dinner-dance at the Olde Board Restaurant with an important business meeting last week.

Highlight of the meeting was the presentation of the K & K emblems to members. These emblems in the form of shield have the familiar Greek masques - tragedy and comedy - with the symbols KKA beneath outlined in gold against a background of purple. Approximately seventy KK men including the twenty-four KEY members received the patches.

An important outcome of the night was the decision to send Pres. Vin Lawless to Boston to attend the performance of " Kingdom of the Blind" by the Boston Catholic Players. Lawless left Sunday for the Hub where the play was presented in New England Mutual Hall, March 6 and 7. His official critique is eagerly awaited by club members.

Plans were outlined and discussed for the forthcoming road trip to Shelburne, Vt., for presentation of " The Kingdom of the Blind." The play is to be shown St. Patrick's Night in the Shelburne Town Hall for the local Catholic parish. This will be the second of this year's K & K road trips. Last month after the Austin Hall performances the thespians motored to Barre, Vt. There sponsored by St. Monica's Parish C.Y.O., the play was presented before a large and receptive audience in the spacious Barre Municipal Auditorium.

Also planned for the " Kingdom of the Blind" players are trips to Richmond, Vt., and to Rutland, Vt. Both are scheduled for the near future.

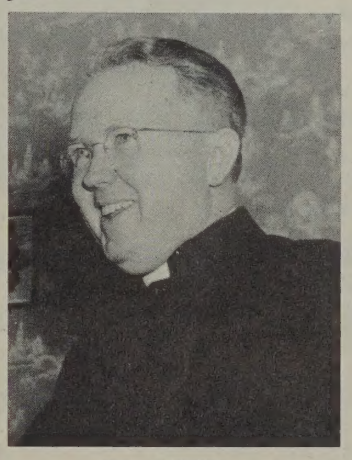
The lengthy meeting was closed with a well deserved tribute to Jerry Kennedy, Tom Lambert, Bill Kennedy, Dick McKillop and other club members who took part in the hilarious Trinity comedy "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Doctor Durick Talks At NFCCS Forum Mon.

Doctor Durick's twice postponed talk on Catholic Lay Leadership will finally be given this Monday. The Doctor will speak at the NFCCS forum at 6:15 in Austin Hall.

FR. LYONS OPENS DRIVE, TALKS ON STUDENT AID

A great man once said, "It is altogether fitting and proper that we do this." Thursday evening at Austin Hall our President Rev. Fr. Lyons reiterated these same words. The occasion was not the battle of Gettysburg but rather the NFCCS Talent Show. The show itself was very successful as the talent performed creditably before a large and enthusiastic audience. Much credit for the success of the show must go to Jack Dobbyn through whose untiring efforts the show was made possible.



FR. LYONS

One of the features of the night was the radio broadcast which came directly from the stage of Austin Hall and was broadcast to the Burlington area over WJOY. The show which ran for a half hour was made up of a fifteen minute script put on by the Pen and Mike Club. This script, very creditably done by the participants, was followed by a round table discussion by Jim Guimond, Bill Fallon, Frank Regan and Tom Kenney on the subject: " How Student Relief Affects World Peace."

The discussion was followed by Fr. Lyons' speech which was delivered to the students and members of the faculty as well as the radio audience. Fr. Lyons seemed to set the stage for the main part of his speech and sound the keynote of the whole week in his first few sentences.

FR. LYONS SPEAKS

Fr. Lyons said in part " There was a time when we Americans were isolationists. We kept out of foreign entanglements. However, we must recognize the fact that we are living in a changing world. Through the many inventions we have become neighbors to all the people of the world."

" We are dependent on them and they are in turn dependent on us. In fact in view of the conflict which we have just come through they are more and more dependent on us.

"At this moment Communism has hurled a challenge to us in the field of relief. Thousands of people in Europe are crying for food. Many of these people are students, and hungry students are easy prey for Communistic doctrines."

" It is a well known fact that the key to a country's success lies in the intellectual element of its people. Conquer these intellectuals and you conquer the country. This is all the more reason that we should aid these suffering fellow students in Europe."

Father Lyons then went on to quote from a letter which was sent to all members of Student Relief in America. The letter publicly thanked the students of American Colleges for the relief that they had sent to European Colleges and expressed a desire that they would continue their generous efforts. All those who took part in Student Relief then received a Papal Blessing.

" IT IS YOUR DUTY"

Father Lyons concluded his speech by publicly thanking the various people connected with the show and urging all of the students in the college to whole heartedly get behind the forthcoming paper drive. " You are Catholic College Students and it is almost your duty to support this noble undertaking. If you do not think that it is your duty, then think of the actions you are performing in assisting in this drive. These actions can be offered up to God for the souls of your two fellow Michaelmen, Paul Morin and Neil Devlin, who died in an accident last week."

The paper drive will take place on campus during the coming week. Students will also have an opportunity to cooperate in the drive which is being conducted in Burlington, Essex and Winooski.

SMOC Meeting Wednesday Night

Outing Club members will have an opportunity to cry on each other's shoulders about the lack of snow when the club holds its first real meeting in months Wednesday,

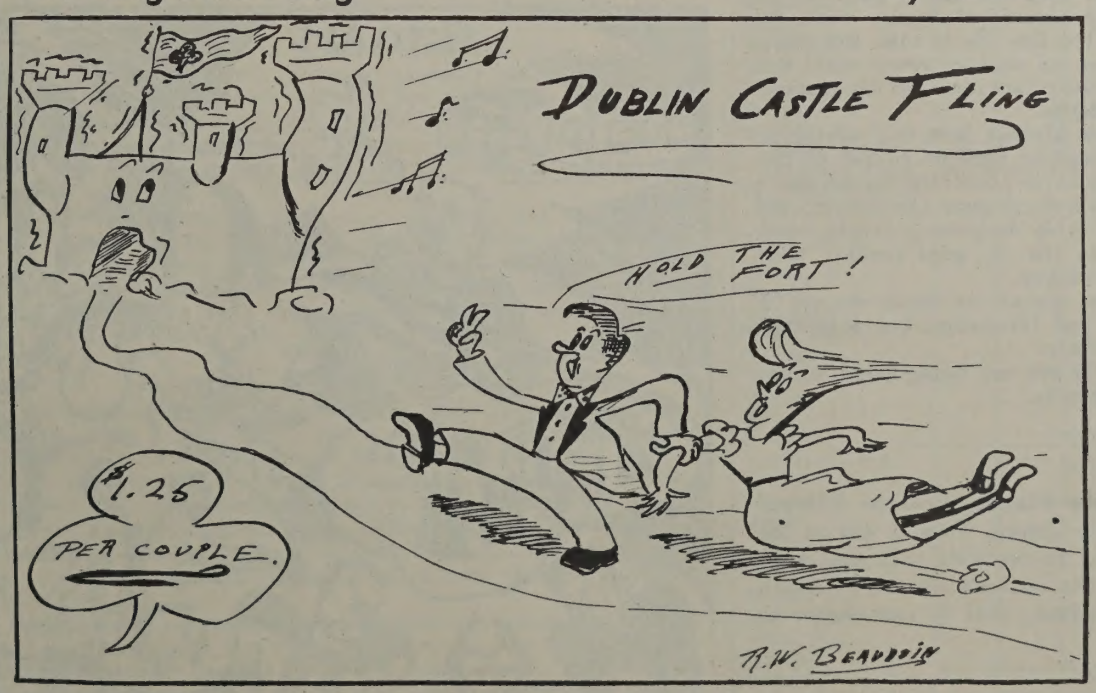
The meeting will be held at seven o'clock. It is tentatively scheduled for Austin Hall, however, signs will be posted Wednesday confirming the meeting place.

Besides commiserating with each other the lack of fleecy white stuff, the club members will lay plans for the spring and arrange for the election of new officers.

Movies will be shown at the meeting.

The MICHAELMAN extends its deepest sympathy to Donald Gibbons '50, on the death of his brother this past week.

The Fling's the Thing — By Beaudoin



According to the freshman class the Dublin Castle Fling, the night of March 17, is a dance all should look forward to. Much time and effort is being put into its success. The band for the dance is the " Arabian Knights," a newly formed dance band composed of members from St. Michael's.

Judging from the response of the various committee heads the success of the dance now only depends on a full Austin Hall on the night of the seventeenth. President Tom Shields says: " The dance may be informal, but is incomparable." Bob White head of the orchestra committee says: " We have the best band in Vermont." And for those who are thinking of the expense involved, ticket chairman Bill Kinney says: " It's a bargain at $1.25."

Tickets will be sold by a representative of the ticket committee on each floor of every hall.

Reward

Reader, let us understand one another. Let us come to a meeting of our minds. Let us separate the men from the boys.

If the caption of this editorial caught your fancy, and per chance you are seeking, or are interested in any actual physical reward or compensation, then scram, reader, this stuff is over your head and will be of little interest to you. In short, don't read beyond this sentence.

But, to the reader who is mature in mind to appreciate and understand the benefits gained, the self satisfaction of charity, the truth in the proverb, " it is better to give than to receive," and the importance of "student relief" as an activity of N.F.C.C.S. then I beg you on.

If the mention of N.F.C.C.S. disturbs you or is of slight interest; if to you its mention means dull reading and actually of no importance, (conversion at this stage of your education would most likely be nil) be ever so kind, remove your eyes, boy, and join the group who have already departed.

Now the reader who has read this far, is the man to whom this is addressed.

Once again the time has come for St. Michael's to do their share toward student relief through the NFCCS. All Catholic students are members of this national federation. As Catholic students " Charity" is our greatest virtue, and it is during this next week that you may express your charitable intentions.

An attempt to raise funds for student relief will be conducted this week in the manner of a large scale paper drive. This task is a manly one and once again you are being called upon to be charitable with your time and effort. You will be asked to cooperate with the leaders of this huge task, by assisting in the city wide collection. Their time and effort is donated without compensation, as well as yours shall be, but universal reward of self satisfaction, and the graces granted, will stimulate your efforts.

If the readers whose eyes have already left this editorial could only realize the vital need of student relief to the not so fortunate Catholic students in countries abroad where the harvest of true doctrine is ever so near the sickle, and in countries where the nail of false doctrine is within reach of the ever present hammer, as you do, good reader, then articles as such would be unnecessary.

Catholic students in countries across the ocean who are in vital need of food, clothing, and literature can only turn to us who are in a position to help.

Help then, good reader, is all you are being asked to do.

Reward: the good graces of charity.

Earlier in the school year the Mission Crusade pledged $1000 to the new Gadsden Mission Chapel. This it did in the name of all Michaelmen. Success in reaching this goal will depend to a great degree on the collections to be taken every Sunday during Lent. Michaelmen, this is your chance to help spread the word of God.

One of the complaints that the students' wives voiced at their organization meeting was that they didn't know what was going on at the college. Seems that their husbands spend all their time studying, don't talk and don't bring The Michaelman home. We're in favor of the first two, but we're dead set against the last. Give the little woman a break. Let her read The Michaelman.

Collegiate Clippings

by Charles Collova

The Boston premiere of Felix Doherty's " The King's Servant" was presented by the Boston College Dramatic Society on February 24, 25 and 26. The play had its World Premiere in the St. Michael's Playhouse during the past summer season and met with overwhelming success, playing to a full house at each performance. On the opening night of the play a number of people had to be turned away at the door. We hope that the Heightsmen's production was also well received.

From Rolla Baloney's column in the Boston College HEIGHTS:

The Friday night meeting of the Saturday night Club will be held Thursday instead of Wednesday, because Monday is a holiday.

I'm just a modest little girl,
I do not smoke or drink,
Or dare to sit at night
Upon the pond's brink --
So my parents think.

Bowling Green BEEGEE NEWS

It's not the principle of the thing, it's the money involved.

Co-eds on the Cornell campus aired the opinion that they are " fed up with beering dates" in a recent broadcast over the university radio station.

They suggested as an alternative strolls, periods of intelligent conversation, card playing, hiking, and "any number of things except beering." They also stressed " dating on a less strenuous financial scale."

One man on the same program observed, however, that " the girls you spend money on are the ones you get a second date with," while another revealed that "while the girls may be sick of beering parties none of his dates has ever shown any aversion to champagne brawls."

It's tournament time over in St. Pat's --- at least as far as Bob Digan and Ray Kennedy are concerned it is, for these two men have broken the game of basketball down to its simplest form and in an attempt to increase the popularity of their brain child will sponsor an open tournament beginning March 14. -- Purpose behind this new excuse for not hitting the books is to bring the set shot, of which both men are leading exponents, back to its former place of honor in the great indoor sport. --- Hank Thompson, Fran Lanou and Jerry Shea -- a picture of health after a quiet week-end with Fr. Ted and Will Lead Way Over Williams

by RAY HOWLAND

Ted Burzenski and Bill Hart, the "Mutt and Jeff" of the St. Michael's College cage team gave the Williamstown, Mass., "Hart fans" quite a show last week as they paced the Purple Knights to a 63-52 victory over the Williams College "five."

For the Knights, it was their 13th victory of the season, while for "Big Ted," who finally found the mark after three "off" games, it was quite a night as he dropped in seven free throws and nine field goals for 25 points.

"Diminutive Willie" gave his home town folks some real thrills as he dumped in 11 tallies and was all over the court, continually stealing the ball to set up scores.

St. Mike's broke the Williams zone defense wide open in the first few minutes as they jumped to a quick 12 to 3 lead, but after switching to man-to-man, the Williams boys caught fire and trailed only by 25 to 30 at the half. Williams opened the second half still hot and took over after four minutes had elapsed to lead 32-31. This lead was short-lived however, as two baskets by Burzenski, plus solos by Hart and Krupinsky put the Knights in the lead, never to be on the short end again.

Besides the previously mentioned Burzenski and Hart, Ed Markey, George Kruse and Ed Krupinsky also handed in "Class A" performances.

Knights Have No Trouble At Clarkson

by WHIT BARTLETT

With Big Teddy Burzenski racking up 23 points, the Purple Knights won their 14th game of the season last Friday night over at Potsdam, New York, making the Engineers of Clarkson their victim to the tune of a 71-60 victory.

The Knights had little trouble picking up the victory as they raced all over the bandbox Clarkson gym in the first half. Burzenski picked up 18 of his 23 points in the initial half as the Purple raced to a 46-24 lead at halftime.

The scoring was pretty evenly divided in the victory as four of the Knights hit double figures. George Kruse hit for 13 while Ed Markey and Billy Hart chipped in with 11 and 10 points respectively in addition to Burzenski's 23. For Clarkson Herb Jahn led the way with 16 points.

NFCCS TO COLLECT WASTE PAPER

Knights and Squires Win Two Against Middlebury

by TONY CAULEY

In a return game played within the confines of the spacious Auditorium, St. Mike's topped Middlebury last week 55-42.

Middlebury upset the Mikemen at their last clambake, so many Middlebury followers came along to see if they could repeat. They didn't, however, thanks to the set-eye of Mike Ziter, whose sights were set on the target dead center that night.

Very early in the game it was evident that St. Michael's was in for trouble because Middlebury kept the boys outside with their tight zone defence. The chargers of Coach Dick Ciccolella have stressed all along that a team with a tight defence can win out over one that runs all night.

It looked like pretty good strategy up until the middle of the second half, when Dead-eye Mike went in to dump in three straight hoops to set the Knights back on the victory trail.

If one man can be given credit for a victory, this one should go to Mike, because before he made an appearance, the Knights seemed to be completely stalled.

While Mike was having himself a night, the rest of the squad was having a little trouble.

Knights Fall To Cats, Squires In Easy Win

by TONY CAULEY

In the traditional tussle that drew the curtain on the 1948-49 basketball season, the Catamounts from the University of Vermont defeated the Knights 52-43, before a capacity crowd of 3,300 people last Monday night at the Burlington Auditorium. The Vermont five had to fight an uphill battle all the way to come out on top, but their last minute fast breaking spree put the cinch on it.

The game moved slowly in the first few minutes, with both teams missing relatively easy shots. Ken Pierce, the Vermont forward, broke the ice after three minutes of scoreless ball with a charity throw, followed by a two-pointer after George Kruse registered on a free toss.

For the Knights, Billy Hart tied the count with a set-shot, after which Ed Markey put the Knights in the lead, making good on a foul. The Knights were never headed for the rest of the half, leading at one time 20-12, only to see it dwindle to 21-20 at intermission.

Ralph Kehoe opened the third stanza with two free tosses, but baskets by Markey and big Ted once again put the Knights ahead. The game ran this see-saw course until midway through the third period when Vermont iced the contest by netting four from the floor, three by Ed Kotlarczyk and one by Hammie Livingston to go ahead 39-34. From here on Vermont never gave up the lead, despite Billy Hart's last minute attempt to pull it out. Hart connected for two beautiful sets, but baskets by Livingston, Kotlarczyk and Pierce kept the Catamounts out of danger.

Eddie Kotlarczyk was high for the Green and Gold with 19 points followed by Pierce and Livingston with 9 and 8 in that order. Billy Hart took top individual honors for the Purple with 14, followed by George Kruse, who had 10.

In the prelim, the Squires really put on a show in closing out an undefeated season, by whipping the Vermont Frosh 75-53. One of the best ovations ever heard at the Auditorium went to Farley, when he left the game after serving notice that next year's Purple varsity should be some squad.

For all practical purposes we could get by this week by just reprinting our article that followed the first Vermont game. In that one you all remember, we admitted that experience beat us, and for this one we could get by with ditto marks. We had high hopes of being able to report that the Purple Knight had finally twisted the Catamount's tail, but such is not the case, and let's admit that under pressure Vermont is a darn good ball club.

On paper, we floored the better of the two squads. Since the St. Anselm's games, we have been noted ninth among New England Colleges, while Vermont never did break into the first ten. St. Anselm's, whom we slammed twice, toyed one night about two months ago with Springfield College, whom Vermont beat by one point. Gil Wood, the Daily News sports editor, picked us this time by four points, and you will recall that he came pretty close last trip when he picked Vermont by seven.

But averages and authoritative opinions don't count for much when two teams line up on the court, plus the fact that press clippings are left on the bench. That Vermont team last Monday had confidence written all over them, while it didn't take the Knights long to cnnvince the crowd that they had just a slight case of the jitters.

WHY?

The Knights fumbled and kicked the ball, threw bad and wild passes, missed easy lay-up shots. Why? Certainly not because they lack their already proven ability, and certainly not because they were not trying, because every man wearing the colors of St. Mike's had his heart and soul in that one. We put forward the opinion that our squad took the floor knowing that Vermont holds a perpetual jinx over St. Michael's, and as a result they lacked confidence which made them hurry everything they did.

As the game progressed, the Knights got worse instead of better, and towards the end of the contest, one could say that they were almost panicky. It was a tough one to lose, but of course there's always next year, and the next basketball season should be a pip for us with a few of those freshman stars moving into varsity circles.

However, so long as Vermont has Al Neimann and Ed Kotlarczyk, who incidentally are both back next year, this column wouldn't bet a lead Canadian dime on any St. Michael's team that doesn't have the same coolness and confidence that stands out all over those two guys: give you a little clue to that one, buddie.

Ted Ziter Speaks To Mission Crusaders

by DAN TARPEY

Over 100 guest students of the Mission Crusaders, were in attendance at Austin Hall last Friday evening to hear Ted Ziter, deliver a stirring speech, concerning the need of financial and spiritual aid for the southern missions.

Ziter, a junior at St. Michael's, was stationed near Selma, Alabama, while in the service, and described to the students the poor living conditions which the colored people are confronted with.

As an example for the necessity of financial aid, Ted read a letter, which he recently received from his brother, Fr. Nelson Ziter, SSE, in an appeal for his support of a recreational center in Selma.

CONCERT PLANS

Ziter then revealed plans for the piano concert which will be presented in Austin Hall, April 3rd, by his brother, Richard Ziter, in behalf of Fr. Nelson Ziter's plea for support.

Mr. Richard Ziter was graduated from the School of Music at the University of Rochester, and is acclaimed throughout the country as an accomplished pianist.

At the close of the meeting Fr. Maurice Boucher, moderator of the Mission Crusade, exalted Ziter's speech and described it as an open appeal to the heart. Fr. Boucher also announced that the Newman Club, at the Boston University School of Music, will present a concert sometime in April, in behalf of the Gadsden Mission Fund.

Biology Club

The newly organized Biology Club under its moderator Father T. D. Sullivan held its first meeting of the second semester Wednesday, March 9. The meeting consisted of a discussion and the arranging of plans for the regular meetings to be conducted throughout the remainder of the semester.

Election of officers for the club will take place at an early date. The program for the meetings will be worked out by the members of the club with the cooperation of Father Sullivan.

The club is open to all those who have an active interest in Biology and desire to share it with others who have the same interest.

Dialogue Mass

Our innovation for Lent, the Dialogue Mass, has found a warm reception at St. Michael's.

As expected, the Mass received diocesan approval in time to begin on Ash Wednesday.

Now the Dialogue Mass will be said daily in the College Chapel at 7 for the remainder of the Lenten season.

Thus far, the attendance has been gratifying. So has your active participation in the "Sung Mass." It seems that the whole congregation joins in the singing of the responses as if one voice.

Michaelmen are making the most of a wonderful opportunity.

Trinity Lecture Monday

Monday evening, March 14, Trinity College will present a series of dramatic duets. The artists are Baldwin McGaw and Emma Knox who give dramatization of portions from Hamlet, Victorian comedies and sophisticated modern pieces.

The program is scheduled at 8:15 in the Trinity College Auditorium. The couple, now Mr. and Mrs. McGaw, have toured the continent four times with their dramatic presentations. The program is the third event in Trinity's lecture-concert series.

Summer Students To Live On-Campus

For those who will attend the summer sessions this year there will be rooms on campus. As it is planned now the men will be housed in Old Hall, with the women residing at St. Pat's. There will be separate halls for the members of the Religious who attend the summer school. The women connected with the St. Michael's Play House will live at the infirmary.

Plans for the housing of students for the fall term have not been completed yet. It is too early to tell just what the conditions will be, come next September.

Rochester Orchestra In Student Program

The Rochester, N.Y., Civic orchestra conducted by Guy Fraser Harrison will give a concert for children and students Saturday afternoon, March 12, at 3 in Memorial Auditorium.

The Burlington branch of the American Association of University Women is sponsoring the concert; the price of tickets is nominal to accommodate a large number of students, 40¢ for students of grade and high school age and $1.20 for college students and others.
